Dealers who have electrolytic copper for immediate delivery are asking 35 cents a pound. The quotation for December delivery is 33 1/2 cents a pound. An interesting feature of the foreign market situation is the $20 a ton advance in copper in London in the last twenty-four hours.

Prices current for a few of the principal metals and metal products, compared with those prevailing at the corresponding time of last year, follow:

	Current price	Year ago
Pig iron, No. 1 foundry, tons...	$25.00	$16.50
Steel billets, Pitts., tons...	50.00	26.00
Copper, electro-lytic, lbs...	32.32	19.4
Tin, lbs...	7.00/7.25	6.25
Lead, N. Y. deliv.	10.12	17.74/18.14

Cotton

Showing the way in another strong advance, May and July contracts reached the 21 cent level. That figure represented a gain of 28 points compared with Thursday's closing price. Other deliveries gained almost as much, December going to 20.65, January to 20.65, and March to 20.62. But the market reversed itself abruptly in the day and dropped from 50 to 60 points in short order. A partial recovery left prices showing a net loss of 2 to 10 points at the close.

With prices at levels that have not been witnessed for nearly half a century, the market, as was to be expected, was nervous and erratic. It was a big commission house sold to cover, causing the late rally. As an indication of the great strength of the Southern spot situation it was pointed out that 7,500 bales were sold at Augusta at 20.25 cents, the biggest day's business in a long time, and in the face of a 10-point advance. All other markets advanced likewise, going to 20 cents or over. Cotton into sight for the week was placed at 530,000 bales, against 447,000 bales a year ago; world's takings of American, 407,811 bales, against 352,688 bales a year ago.

Sustenance

Wheat—Again the wheat markets of the country were extremely feverish and unsettled, prices fluctuating in a decidedly erratic manner. In the main, however, the tendency was downward, and especially on December contracts, which were freely offered and poorly supported. As a consequence the May premium advanced to 5 1/2c, against 5 1/4c, Thursday.

It was clear that holders of December were anxious to unload and some of them were replacing with May. Selling of December was prompted partly by the scarcity of storage room and the great difficulty of obtaining insurance excepting at much higher rates. Otherwise the market was controlled mostly by speculative influences and it seemed evident that prominent interests in the West, including buyers for European account, were arranged on the bear side.

Apparently it was to their interest to manufacture a decline in order that they might load up on a lower and safer basis. Consequently, much was made concerning the arrangement of the British government to secure a large quantity of ocean tonnage in order to import freely from Australia and India.

At this juncture it was alleged that Western European had sufficient wheat on hand in transit to secure requirements for a month in conjunction with the wheat which would be shipped from Canada, India and Australia. Hence it was argued that little or no wheat would be needed here in addition to the grain already contracted for. This latter will, of course, be shipped as soon as the freight room becomes available.

The decline was checked temporarily by report of further unfavorable relations from Argentina, where it is still hot and dry, and consequently exports from that country are diminishing, notwithstanding which there was another decrease in the visible supply there.

In the West primary receipts continue light and particularly of spring wheat. In the mean time shipments are said to be fair except orders in our market, but offerings are hindered by the measures and high cost of ocean freight room. It is stated that Argentine corn has been sold c. l. to Europe at equivalent to 12 1/4c, or 50c more than American, on a basis of 50c freight for 450 lbs.

On this decline buyers for British account again became active and some of the early short sellers endeavored to cover, causing the late rally. As an indication of the great strength of the Southern spot situation it was pointed out that 7,500 bales were sold at Augusta at 20.25 cents, the biggest day's business in a long time, and in the face of a 10-point advance. Coffee

The coffee market was comparatively quiet yesterday, and after opening at an advance of 2 to 3 points, showed little further change in prices. Scattered investment buying, while trade interest was not active either way, and the close was 4 to 5 points higher. Sales were reported of 12,000 bags.

Sugar

The futures in spot sugar caused some selling and trade liquidation in the market for sugar futures yesterday, after opening at a decline of 607 points, prices eased off further, the close being about at the low point of the day, with a decline of 200 1/2 points. Total sales were 12,000 tons.

Cottonseed Oil

Operations in the cottonseed oil market were moderately active yesterday, total sales amounting to 25,000 barrels. Changes were narrow, closing 1 point lower to 3 points higher. Crude oil is not being pressed for sale and sales of refined are believed to be small, while the situation is believed to be strong from a supply and demand point of view. Buyers have been somewhat less aggressive recently and there has been a gradual liquidation, which has taken some of the snap out of the bull side.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

NEW JERSEY

RUSSELL SAGE, said—"Buy Real Estate in the outlying districts of New York. Work hard at your usual business. Your Real Estate purchase will make your old age comfortable."

Have You Laid the Foundation of Your Future Independence?

Get out your rent receipts and count up the money you have paid your landlord simply because he put his money in real estate while you invested yours in slips of paper. Think how surer your future would be to-day if you had invested your rent money in a building plot. You would own your own home, be independent of the landlord and have a standing in a growing community. Your cost of living would to-day be reduced Fifty per cent. if you had bought property in a growing section, and your money invested in realty would have been working every day for you.

Here Is One of the Greatest Opportunities Ever Offered

You can now buy building lots high and dry, 37 minutes from the heart of New York City, within 5 minutes' walk of the railroad station and overlooking the links of the Colonia Golf Club, at a big reduction from present day values, simply because our chief desire at the present time is not to get the highest possible price for lots but to dispose of them at low prices that are sure to induce buyers to build attractive homes at once which will be a credit to
